Blowback is the unintended consequences and unwanted side-effects of a covert operation. To the civilians suffering the blowback of covert operations, the effect typically manifests itself as "random" acts of political violence without a discernible, direct cause; because the public—in whose name the intelligence agency acted—are unaware of the effected secret attacks that provoked revenge (counter-attack) against them.

For those keeping track, something odd is going on with Xwitter. In the days since the election, Lefties have obviously been losing their minds. This isn't surprising, many people were looking forward to it to include myself. Arguably my fondest memory of the mid 2010s was watching shitlibs cry after the 2016 election. This time around, things are a lot more intense it seems. Obviously, the rhetoric & political divisions have only become more hostile & pronounced. Most people have noticed that the line between Left & Right has become much larger in the last eight years as both parties shift further away from the center. This isn't new.

The oddness on Xwitter is that relatively minor Leftist accounts are posting inflammatory tweets & getting a ridiculous amount of attention, often in the ballpark of 300k likes. This is noteworthy because these accounts usually only get a few dozen at most, there's several instances of the official POTUS account getting ratio'd by relatively well known RWers. These aren't even major figures like Destiny or that Arab queer, just random accounts. This has led many to suspect that these likes are bots, with the purpose of making "the resistance" seem more popular & energetic.

Regardless of any suspicious behavior online, this time things are certainly more vitriolic than before. Every now & then, you might have seen a particularly questionable call for Trump's death or blanket insults for his base. Now, people are openly calling for violence against his main voting demographic. The most obvious is Whites, especially women since they were supposed to vote for Harris but ended up voting almost identically as men. They're also quite upset with Latinx's & Arabs who did not vote for Trump as a majority, but were about evenly split between both parties. Since Gen Z (especially Whites) has shifted heavily to the Right this election, there's also a bunch of Millennials complaining about them.

What's funny is that a lot of Reddit & Xwitter posts right now are Libs threatening to report Trump voting Hispanics to ICE & other things that make a Wignat blush. Quite funny, really. The only major demographic that voted decisively for Harris was Blacks, and even Black men apparently weren't supportive enough despite being 85+% blue.

Something else noteworthy is that many Leftists are finally coming to the harsh realization that they are a minority, and not many people actually care about their axioms. They still haven't lost the smug superiority complex, but they are realizing that they are harshly outnumbered by both the harder elements of the RW & especially by normies who are more focused on practical matters than Lefty hyper-egalitarianism. There's also a lot of retards trying to buy a gun now, hopefully getting charged $1200 for a Hi-Point. They don't know the process, are failing background checks, and are buying absolutely dogshit firearms from Taurus or something similar. Pretty funny to watch. Small organizations like the Socialist Rifle Association have existed for years, but more mainstream Lefties arming themselves after decades of gun control calls should tell you their mindset right now. They completely & unironically buy into the propaganda that Trump is literally Hitler, and that they'll soon be hunted down one by one. Especially funny are the people removing pride flags & such from their homes, it's too late buddy you're going in the crystal!

All jokes aside, keep in mind what a Leftist actually is. It's not people like Biden or the moderates that may have voted for Obama. The Leftist is mentally ill, sexually depraved, bottom of the food chain, filled with various chemicals, weak of chin, and desperate for survival. It's the neurotic 50 year old woman that never got married & the male feminist who's too scared to approach women directly so instead tries to sneak in as an ally. When these people call for the death of Whites, particularly women, for voting for Trump, believe them. Over 2,000 of these freaks killed themselves the day after the election, and someone capable of suicide is capable of murder. Over the next few months & years, absolutely expect random acts of violence against people who 'look' like a Trump supporter. Expect more Audrey Hale type individuals going off the deep end.

I feel I need to stress that these aren't the absolute radicals of the Left, like their version of Wignats. This the average Vaush subscriber. This is the average member of a Leftist subreddit. You most likely know someone like this in real life. Despite their small numbers in the grand scheme of things, there are a lot of these people scurrying around & you should be wary of them doing something stupid because they think they'll be put in a breeding colony or detransition camp. A good thing is that these people are sterilizing themselves en masse, both genders. This will make our mission much easier for our own kids, so it's a huge plus.

The warning of this post isn't to be concerned about Lefty Atomwaffen ripoffs. We all know what the average Leftist looks like & no one is actually afraid of them. The warning is to be wary about these types who might commit violent acts against their perceived enemies, Gen Z Whites bearing the brunt of the blame at this time. Something most of my American readers probably aren't aware of is that Zoomers in Europe are currently shifting Right even harder than here. Parties like RN & AfD are getting their strongest support from the 18-29 demographic, everywhere from Sweden to France to Italy. Since about 2018, things have been generally going our way. There's a lot to whitepill about, but the mission is far from over & will result in blowback. It will likely be Leftists firing the first shots at relatively moderate Conservatives, which opens the way for a harsh reaction from our spheres.

Arm, Tribe, Train. This has been basic advice for years, you're running out of time.

As a side note, the homosexual latinx that goes by the name Nick Fuentes is trying to snake his way back into the RW after making himself an enemy of basically every subfaction that isn't Le Based TradCath Groyper. Don't let him. Everyone on Xwitter is doing a good job of this & calling his spergs faggots whenever they try to pipe up. He's about to do a podcast with Richard Spencer, which is poetic because they're both equally retarded & will soon occupy the same level of obscurity. Total Groyper Death.

Nick recently posted a tweet, while celebrating the victory of the man he told all his followers not to vote for, that said "Your body, my choice." Pretty fun given the timing, to be honest. It had its desired effect, for some reason every Leftist making TikToks of themselves crying has come across this specific tweet & found it utterly abhorrent, of course.

Regardless of how funny it is to see a 110lb twink threaten people who say it, it's bad optics. Abortion is a losing issue for the Right, like it or not. Roe v Wade being overturned was funny, but it also caused the Democratic gains in the 2022 midterms. Abortion is only really an important issue with evangelicals, the worst faction of the RW movement. People like to complain about women supporting abortion, but if you actually speak to the moderate & Right-leaning ones it's more of a neurotic fear of getting raped or having a kid with extreme disabilities. The sort of comically evil baby murder you see on Xwitter from people who seem obsessed with abortion is a rarity confined to the same mentally unstable Leftist I mentioned earlier.

Abortion is both a losing issue in the electoral sphere, it's also tactically dumb from a WN standpoint. The majority of abortions are given to BIPOC women, and is something that has almost single handily kept the Black population in check. It also likely caused the 1990's crime dip, fun fact. The general RW needs to leave this issue alone, it's counterproductive. Roe v Wade getting overturned was definitely a good thing in this regard, as it lets the people who do care about abortion handle it at the state level without causing too much issue past that.

I understand the Christian view on abortion, & certainly don't blame them for following their own religion's moral system. But at some point you need to realize when to sacrifice something in the short term, at least. The overall mission is more important than its individual parts.

Regardless, buy a gun & get good at using it. Get a gym membership & get good at picking up heavy things. Start dropping friends that will be enemies in the future outside of short term advantages of keeping them around.

The Infantry has an acronym meant to represent the cycle of combat, but is very applicable in other parts of life as well - SAMK. Suppress, Assess, Move, Kill.

For our current atmosphere, we have 'suppressed' the Leftist offensive for the time being. It's time to assess the situation to determine our future actions under the 2nd Trumpenreich. Be ready to make our move & to kill our short term goals. Repeat, until the bitter end.

Hail Victory.

Wonderful time to be living on a military installation, best part is I can do all sorts of fuck shit to the remaining Harris-Walz signs and flags on houses right off base free of consequence. There's an LGBT/Israel flag that I plan on capturing as a souvenir before I leave 🤘

It's militants that drive political movements, not 'moderates'. The hardest line towards one's enemies is the best line. Thus simplifies ideology considerably. The focus then becomes making who and who is not 'the enemy'.
